'Disappointment' at council's beach access decision

CAMPAIGNERS have been left feeling "disappointed" after councillors voted to take no further action against calls to re-instate public access to Castle Cove beach in Weymouth.

Almost 2,000 people signed a petition to get access reopened to the privately owned beach, after cracks appeared in the cliff next to steps leading to the shore, causing officials to close the access path three months ago.

Green Party member Clare Sutton has been heading a campaign to re-open access to the beach, despite reports from the Environment Agency that repairs and safety works to the path could cost more than £500,000.

Speaking to View from Weymouth and Portland last month, Ms Sutton said both local residents and visitors to the area enjoy the secluded sandy beach, off Old Castle Road.

She said: "Many people see it as the perfect retreat from the crowds that gather at Weymouth's main beach."

She added: "I have been really grateful for the support that has gathered around the campaign."

However, following the result at the recent full council meeting, Ms Sutton said she was disappointed by councillors' decision to take no further action regarding the matter.

She said: "I am incredibly disappointed. Given the huge public support for this, I honestly thought they would get all the interested parties together to see if we can, together, and find a cost-effective solution. I made a number of what I think were very reasonable suggestions, but councillors did not respond directly to any of them."

Addressing the council, Ms Sutton put forward a number of ideas to regain public access to the beach including installing steps on the other side of the existing bridge and seeing if access can be gained BERNARD Critchley has lived in Crewkerne for the last four years after living and working in Norwich and coming back to the West Country with his two sons, Arthur and Matthew.

Bernard has spent over 30 years working as a tax specialist with various accountancy firms but now works for Tax Help UK - a charity set up to help the elderly - based at the Pineapple Business Park in Salwayash, Bridport.

● YOU are currently working for Tax Help for the Elderly UK. What inspired you to do that job?
I joined Tax Help to be able to use my knowledge and experience to help people who wouldn't otherwise be able to pay for professional help.

● YOU were granted the Freedom of the City of London... how did that come about?
I became a member of the Worshipful Company of Tax Advisers in 2002 (a City of London Livery Company) and as a result, in 2003, I was able to apply for Freedom of the City of London.

It doesn't unfortunately give me the right to drive sheep and cattle over London Bridge or to carry a naked sword in public as is generally believed. However, I have twice taken part in the Lord Mayor's Show, where we dressed up to represent taxes through the ages. I dressed as entertainment tax and juggled along the length of the procession.

● I UNDERSTAND you enjoy magic and performing tricks, could you tell me a bit about that?
I did a circus skills evening class in the 1990s and learnt how to juggle. I can juggle four balls, or three clubs/rings and I can also walk a tightrope. I have been doing little magic tricks since I was a child and used to entertain my own children with some tricks. When I started lecturing in tax for professionals I also used magic tricks to illustrate my talks.

● DO you have any other hidden skills, interests or hobbies?
I am a qualified cricket umpire and travel around Somerset, Wiltshire, Bristol and Gloucestershire during the summer months. I collect political autographs and have 15 US presidents, 11 US Vice-Presidents and every British Prime Minister since 1900 in the collection. I also collect cricket memorabilia.

● IF you won the Lottery, what would you do?
I would give 10 per cent to charity, pay off my debts, give some money to my children to help set them up and complete my set of Wisden Cricketers' Almanack (a cricket reference book) from 1864 to date as I still need a further 91 copies.

● WHICH three people would you invite to your dream dinner party?
Thomas Jefferson as he is by far the brightest politician ever to be President of USA. Dylan Thomas who turned writing in the English language to an art form not seen in the 20th Century with the possible exception of TS Eliot. Eric Morecombe as he could see the funny side to anything and could liven up any dull part of the evening.

● IF you could live you life again, what would you be?

If I had my life again I would like to have been either a maths teacher or an actor.

Council hope rates relief scheme will breathe new life in to town

MOVES to encourage businesses to take over empty shops and breathe new life into Weymouth and Portland have been backed by councillors.

Weymouth and Portland Borough Council agreed that businesses should get money off their rates if they move into shops that have been empty for more than a year.

It is hoped that the introduction of Business Rates Reoccupation Relief, which was approved by the borough council's management committee on June 10th, will attract new businesses and jobs to the area.

Councillor Colin Huckle, Weymouth and Portland

Borough Council finance and assets briefholder, said: "We are very keen to do all we can to support local businesses as they are the lifeblood of our communities."

"We want to help revitalise our town centre and the shops of our borough and I am very pleased we can help them."

Under the Government-funded scheme, businesses that qualify will be given a 50 per cent discount on their rates for 18 months.

Business Rates Reoccupation Relief will be available to businesses that move into previously long term empty premises, which were mainly used for retail before they closed down.

In order to qualify, traders will need to have moved in between April 1st 2014 and March 31st 2016. However, it will not be available to all businesses. Among those not qualifying will be betting shops, pay day loan companies and pawn brokers.

Cyclist assaulted on cycle path

OFFICERS in Weymouth are appealing for witnesses and anyone with information to come forward after an assault on the Rodwell Trail.

The incident occurred at about 1.30pm on Friday May 30th on a cycle way near the bridge over Sudan Road.

The victim, a 28-year-old woman, was cycling toward Wyke Regis from Weymouth when a man, who was walking with a woman, shouted abuse and punched her hard on the arm as she passed them.

This caused the victim to crash and fall off her bike. The offender then kicked her in the back. The rider sustained minor injuries as a result of the incident.

The man and woman are described as white, in their fifties and both have short hair.

Police Constable, Adam Bayliss Weymouth police, said: "This incident left the victim very shocked."

"As it took place in broad daylight there may have been people around who saw what happened. I am appealing for anyone, who saw the incident or who saw a man and woman walking on the Rodwell Trail near the bridge to come forward."

Witnesses and anyone with information should call Dorset Police on 101 quoting incident number 30:220. Alternatively, call Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Man sentenced to six years for drug ring involvement

A MAN from Weymouth has been sentenced to six year's imprisonment for his part in a drugs ring operating across Dorset.

Stewart Davidson, 29, from Weymouth, was sentenced along with five others from across Dorset, for his involvement in a drugs ring. He pleaded guilty to one count of conspiring to supply a class A drug before the trial.

The six men were arrested in October and November 2012 following an extensive investigation led by Dorset Police's Major Crime Team. The investigation unveiled a comprehensive conspiracy to supply a class A drugs across the county of Dorset.

The arrests were carried out under Operation Ace which was set up in September 2012 to investigate a group suspected of supplying controlled drugs and this brought about the conviction of these men.

Council to take no action over beach access via a privately owned slipway.

Ms Sutton said: "It would cost them [the council] virtually nothing to look again at the stability of the top half of the path, the plan put to the council for a much cheaper new bridge, and possible use of the existing slipway."

"Not a single one of our local councillors in Weymouth East or Weymouth West was even willing to say, 'let's look into these suggestions'."

"More than anything, I completely fail to understand how they could show such disdain for the 1,850 people who signed the petition. They had all clearly decided what they were going to do before I spoke."

A council report submitted for discussion at the meeting stated the beach could in fact still be accessed by the public, albeit via the unstable slope or by boat or low tide. It highlighted that there was no funding available to pay for temporary steps, which could cost in the region of £25,000, and that alternative path routes were not considered acceptable by the landowner.

Ms Sutton was also informed that the land was unstable and privately owned and there was little the council could do.

Weymouth & Portland Borough Council Environment and Sustainability Briefholder Ian Roebuck said: "Councillors listened carefully to the petitioners and understand that people have used this private beach for many years and have happy memories of the time spent there."

"However, replacing the steps to the beach would be fruitless unless the surrounding land was stabilised. That land is neither owned, nor controlled by the borough council and attempts by officers to persuade the owners to pay for the necessary works have been unsuccessful."

"Experts say the cost of such work would be somewhere in the order of £500,000. The owners say they cannot afford that and we are advised that a government grant is unlikely to be available."

"On that basis, councillors decided to take no further action."

Consultation on how to deal with offenders

DORSET Police and Crime Commissioner, Martyn Underhill has launched a three month consultation to give people a greater say in how anti-social behaviour and low level crime is dealt with in the county.

The recent Anti-social Behaviour, Crime and Policing Act places a statutory duty on all PCCs to develop a list of "Community Remedies". From this autumn, victims will be able to select the punishment for the offender from a menu of options.

Community Remedies are likely to include measures such as repairing damage to property, cleaning up graffiti or receiving a punishment proportionate to the crime. Victims can also ask the offender direct questions, mediate or receive an apology. By bringing together the offender with the victim of their crime, it's hoped they will better understand the impact of their actions. Community Remedy is a way of delivering justice without going through the traditional court process.

In addition to the online survey, the Dorset Office of the Police and Crime Commissioner will also be holding a number of focus groups to consult communities on what they'd like to see on the list of Community Remedies. The first focus group will take place in Wareham, June 24th.

Dorset Police and Crime Commissioner Martyn Underhill said: "Community Remedies give victims a greater voice and puts them at the heart of punishment for offenders. I want to consult as many people as possible over the next few months so I can collect a wide range of views

"Last year there were 29,436 recorded incidents of anti-social behaviour in the county. Community resolution benefits the victim in gaining closure on the incident and helps the offender to break the cycle of crime."

"I am passionate about victim care – this is something the people of Dorset have been asking for and victims want this option as an alternative to the court process."

To take part in the consultation, please visit the website at www.dorset.pcc.police.uk and click on the link from the homepage or call the office on 01202 223966 to request a hard copy or for more information on the focus groups.

Police crackdown on domestic abuse

DORSET Police have announced that there will be additional specially-trained officers dedicated to victims and those who commit domestic abuse for the duration of the World Cup.

From Friday, June 13th to Sunday, July 13th, officers will be conducting extra reassurance visits to high-risk victims to ensure they continue to be safe.

Police will be targeting serial perpetrators of domestic abuse and ensuring effective safeguarding measures are put in place in relation to children and vulnerable adults.

Known offenders of domestic abuse can expect to receive a police visit to ensure they are abiding by any special conditions or court orders. Along with robust monitoring, officers will also be providing a response to any reported incidents.

Detective Inspector Richard

Dixey said: "We are determined to support victims in reporting these crimes and make sure those who inflict abuse are brought to justice. This is a priority for Dorset Police.

"Along with our own experienced and specially-trained officers who investigate these offences, we also work in close partnership with other support agencies who can also offer support, advice and guidance."

Dorset Police receives on average 700 reports of domestic abuse per month across the county. Reported incidents of domestic abuse tend to increase when major sporting tournaments take place.

Dorset Police have extra powers through the recently introduced Domestic Violence Protection Notices and Orders, to bar a suspected perpetrator of domestic violence from contacting a victim and stop them returning to a victim's home.

Members of the public can also apply to the police on 101 under the Domestic Violence Disclosure Scheme (Clare's Law) for a disclosure on a suspected offender's past history known as the "right to ask".

The scheme is for anyone in an intimate relationship regardless of gender.

Anybody can make an enquiry, but information will only be given to someone at risk or a person in a position to safeguard the victim. Partner agencies can also request disclosure is made of an offender's past history where it is believed someone is at risk of harm. This is known as "right to know".

Schools celebrate £10,000 reading grant

TEACHERS and students are celebrating the news that three schools on the same campus in Broadway, Weymouth, are to benefit from the award of a £10,000 grant to fund an accelerated reading programme.

Wey Valley, Wyvern Academy and St Nicholas & St Laurence C of E VA schools all use the learning resource centre at Wey Valley School, which will receive new materials as a result of the grant from The Foyle Foundation and The Aspect Trust.

Eileen Glynn, learning resource centre manager at Wey Valley, spearheaded the successful joint bid which will be spent both on conventional reading materials and Kindle e-readers.

Rob Cole, Wey Valley's finance and business manager, said: "Competition for funding from The Foyle Foundation, which provided £7,000 of the total, is very strong, and only a minority of the applications submitted are approved."

"Eileen Glynn put together a really well-argued case to show what an important difference the money could make to developing reading skills and we are indebted to her."

The application focused on the needs of pupils in the last two years of primary and the first two years of secondary education, and the grant will enable the schools to better support their crucial transition into senior school.

Helen Williams, head of St Nicholas and St Laurence, said: "The bid will make a real difference to all of our children including the very gifted and talented pupils in our school."

Sue Hoxey, head of Wyvern Academy, a specialist school for children with disabilities, said: "The money will allow us to give them access to a wider range of reading material, as well as computer-based quizzes so that we can check their understanding of what they've read."

The three schools came together to form The Aspect Trust in 2009, a co-operative trust whose underlying principles are to improve the quality of teaching and learning across the campus and to improve educational standards for all learners, especially in English and Maths.

The Aspect Trust provided £3,000 of the grant money.

Sue Hoxey said: "We have created here an inclusive community campus integrating children and young people from the widest range of learning difficulties to the most gifted, including college and higher education progression pathways.

"The success of our bid is a very welcome reflection on what's been achieved to date, and our plans for the future."

Pubwatch scheme takes off

PUBS and clubs in Weymouth that signed up to an early closure scheme say they are united in tackling anti-social behaviour and improving the town's night time economy.

Seven pubs and clubs in Weymouth town centre voluntarily agreed in January to stop the sale of alcohol at 5am.

The six-month pilot aims to prevent the cross-over between night-time revellers leaving pubs and clubs, and families wanting to enjoy the seafront in the early morning.

The scheme also hopes to decrease the number of alcohol-related incidents as well as reducing the impact on the daytime and tourist activities.

Keith Treggiden, chairman of Weymouth Pubwatch, said: "The bars are working together to reduce the times of operation and have implemented some changes, one of these changes is closing at 5am instead of 7am."

"Security Teams are used to disperse people quietly and guide them to taxis, along with keeping noise to a minimum. The bars have done this at their own cost but with the full support of Weymouth Pubwatch.

"We as Pubwatch are committed to a safer Weymouth and are working together with Dorset Police and Weymouth and Portland Borough Council in trialling initiatives to that extent."

Weymouth and Portland Borough Council has been working in partnership with Dorset Police and Public Health Dorset to introduce the scheme.

The borough council is responsible for issuing licences for premises to sell alcohol in Weymouth and Portland.

Councillor Michael Goodman, community safety brief holder at Weymouth and Portland Borough Council, said: "We would like to praise the responsible actions of the pubs and clubs in Weymouth which have signed up to the scheme."

"This is showing a commitment from licensees and statutory organisations to ensure Weymouth is an enjoyable and safe place to go out at night."

"Those involved voluntarily reduced their opening hours which we hope will reduce anti-social behaviour in the town centre at night, but also ensure our night time economy remains vibrant."

Pubs and clubs in the scheme are expected to finish alcohol sales by 5am and have their premises cleared by 5.15am.

Premises that have signed up so far include: The Nook, The Lazy Lizard, Actors, Dolce Vita, Goldfishers, Dusk, Tuatara-Bar/The Closet.

Inspector Pete Browning of Weymouth Police, said: "This is a positive step towards achieving our joint goal of making Weymouth a safe and friendly place for people to visit. "As the new Neighbourhood Inspector for Weymouth and Portland I have started to make contact through Pubwatch and work closely with our licensees."

"It's refreshing to see many premises taking this voluntary step to help reduce anti-social behaviour in the area, and should be commended for their encouraging action in protecting their community."

Dorset cycle routes updated ready for summer

POPULAR cycle route leaflets have been updated and now include Weymouth and Portland.

Leaflets promoting the National Cycle Network (NCN) Routes 2 and 26 through West Dorset have been reproduced and updated and now include route details all the way to Weymouth and Portland.

The NCN routes already provide signposted cycle trails from Lyme Regis in the west and Sherborne in the north with some shorter circular routes along the way.

The Visit Dorset Tourism team worked with Dorset County Council to update both leaflets ready for the summer. Leaflets are available from tourist information centres across Dorset or can be downloaded from www.visit-dorset.com.

The Visit Dorset Tourism team is also supporting a new Regional Growth Fund campaign led by VisitEngland dedicated to increasing the popularity and participation in cycling across England in 2014. The match funded project will see Dorset promoted in a 100 page supplement called 'Cycling breaks in England' on websites www.theguardian.com and www.VisitEngland.com/morecycling.

Councillor Rachel Rogers, Weymouth & Portland Borough Council's Briefholder for Tourism and Culture, said: "Dorset offers many opportunities for cycling, from signposted NCN routes throughout Dorset and scenic disused railway lines, such as the Rodwell Trail from Weymouth to Portland, to off road forest trails such as Moors Valley, which are great for families."

"For local residents and visitors alike, cycling is a fantastic way to explore our beautiful county, spend quality time with family or friends and get fitter while having a great time."

Flying the flag for Armed Forces Day

RESIDENTS are invited to a flag raising ceremony to commemorate Armed Forces Day.

Weymouth and Portland Borough Council will be holding an official flag raising ceremony as part of the national Armed Forces Day at the North Quay Council Offices on Monday, June 23rd at 10.30am.

Weymouth and Portland Mayor Councillor Kate Wheller will lead the flag raising ceremony, joined by representatives from Armed Forces Organisation Standards, Military Vehicle Trust and council staff.

Councillor Kate Wheller said: "The borough holds many events to commemorate our strong links with the armed forces. This flag raising ceremony a token of our appreciation.

"We continue to have very strong links with many veterans associations locally, throughout the country and abroad. We would like to express our thanks for the passion, energy and enthusiasm of these many groups and individuals."

The Ministry of Defence is inviting all communities across the UK to be involved and inviting all local authorities to join in by simultaneously "Flying the Flag" at 10.30am on Monday, June 23rd.

It is hoped that the ceremony will be repeated across the country and that the flags will be flown until after Armed Forces Day on Saturday, June 28.

Buskers to raise money for St John Ambulance

WEYMOUTH'S annual Street Busk is all set for Saturday, June 21st and this year's fundraiser is in aid of St John Ambulance.

Local band, Replay, will play classic hits outside the HSBC bank in St Mary's Street to raise cash for the nation's leading first aid charity.

And proceeds will go towards projects such as St John Ambulance's efforts to provide funded training in life saving skills for children in Dorset's schools.

"Weymouth is very busy with holiday makers, in late June and next weekend also sees the Annual Veterans Festival so the town is really buzzing – we just need the sunshine," said Julie Dean, unit manager of St John Ambulance's Weymouth volunteers.

The event is the Weymouth volunteers' main fundraiser for 2014 and the charity's regional fundraising coordinator, Kevin Dickens is hoping the annual event will be the biggest yet.

"Events like the Street Busk support us in reaching more young people with first aid training," said Kevin.

"It's so easy to learn and can have such an incredible impact on people's lives but, because it's not compulsory on the national curriculum, only a minority of schoolchildren would know what to do if one of their classmates, or a member of their family became ill or injured.

"Through fundraising, we can equip a generation with the skills to be the difference between a life lost and a life saved."

For more information on St John Ambulance's work, including how to become a volunteer and details of training for the public, schools and businesses, visit www.sja.org.uk or call 08700 10 49 50.

BID's plans for Weymouth

MEMBERS of Weymouth BID joined the Weymouth and Portland Chamber of Commerce at one of its business breakfasts to discuss its visions for the town.

The monthly business breakfast was attended by more than 70 businesses who heard how the Weymouth BID are going to deliver exciting projects in the town including the launch of two new websites - one focusing on levy payers providing both information and opportunity for business to business trading, and a second website targeted directly to the Weymouth visitor.

Both websites are expected to be live over the next few weeks.

The Weymouth Brand roll out will commence this summer and levy payers will be the first to engage with the new brand before it is used in a regional advertising campaign later in the year, when the BID will be targeting "out of season" visitors to the town by creating a series of events.

Events include a maritime event in September, a new food event in October, Halloween in October, Christmas shopping in November and the return of the Victorian Shownight in December.

Join chairman of BIB Alison Theobald said: "The Weymouth BID board comprises of a group of local business people who collectively work on a voluntary basis to deliver the BID business plan in conjunction with Weymouth BID Manager Nigel Reed. The new town centre office at 15 St Alban Street, is now open and we encourage local businesses to pop in to see us at any opportunity with new ideas and any feedback that businesses may have. Work-

Golf clinic above par for East Boro residents

A GOLF clinic for people with learning disabilities has been launched in Weymouth.

Wessex Golf Centre has teamed up with housing and support services provider, East Boro, to offer specialist coaching to its tenants.

Under the tutorship of PGA professionals, Fern Grimshaw and Michael Watson, the clinics cover every aspect of the game from chipping, putting and driving to course maintenance and etiquette.

The first batch of East Boro tenants have just completed a 10-week course, leaving the Wessex duo "highly impressed" with their students' progress.

Ms Grimshaw said: "It's an amazing partnership between us and East Boro and it's been an absolute delight running the clinics.

"The guys who have taken part arrived having never even held a golf club and yet all of them are now competent golfers.

"We have worked hard on all aspects of the game and their response has been truly magnificent. Despite their disabilities, the guys have been brilliant and golf has certainly proved an outstanding way for them to express themselves."

Barry Bowditch is one East Boro tenant who has excelled at the game and he is now looking to develop his golfing career further.

"It's been brilliant", he said. "Fern and Michael have been so patient and understanding and we've all really enjoyed having the opportunity to learn how to play golf.

"It's a game that I intend to play regularly from now on and I am hoping to enter some special tournaments for golfers with learning disabilities later this year."

The Wessex Golf Centre is now planning to offer more clinics throughout the year.

"We look forward to continuing our work with East Boro and would also invite any individuals or groups of people with learning or physical disabilities to come and give golf a try," said Ms Grimshaw.

More details are available by calling Fern Grimshaw or Michael Watson on 01305-784737.

Cinemagoers travel back to 1940s

STAFF and cinemagoers at Weymouth's Cineworld travelled back in time to the 1940s to mark the anniversary of the D-Day landings on June 6th.

Cineworld broadcast "D-Day 70 Years On" live from the Royal Albert Hall in conjunction with BBC Radio 2, which saw 160 people attend.

All profits from ticket sales went to three charities - The Royal British Legion, SSAFA forces charity and Skillforce.

The screening was preceded by a 1940s style dance routine performed by dancers from the Weymouth School of Ballet.

In the foyer of the cinema, members of the military vehicle preservation society set up a display that included a second world war motorbike and representatives from the SSAFA charity were present to speak to customers about the work that the charity undertakes.

Villages to get superfast broadband

TEN thousand homes and businesses in dozens of villages around the Weymouth and Dorchester areas will have access to fast fibre broadband by Christmas.

It is hoped it will provide a boost for rural business and allow better access for homes, many of which now want to use multiple devices at the same time.

But while many will get the faster service, if they pay extra, there will still be parts of some villages and entire areas which will have to wait even longer.

While most of Crossways will get the better service, approximately half the village will have to wait beyond 2016. A similar situation applies to Martinstown and the Puddletown area.

Cerne Abbas and the Piddle Valley villages, Beaminster and Burton Bradstock are not scheduled for improvement until at least 2015.

The new areas, announced at an event in Frampton Village Hall on Monday evening will mean that by the end of this year the Superfast Dorset programme will have created the potential for 20,000 local homes to get fibre broadband.

So far Dorset councils have pledged £10.75 million of council taxpayers money to the Superfast project with BT and other partners putting in an additional £22.3 million.

Project leaders say that without the investment from the public purse 80,000 homes across Dorset would not have access to higher speeds.

BT programme manager Grant Munn said on Monday that the new phase of the project will include work in the exchange areas of Abbotsbury, Dorchester, Maiden Newton, Martinstown, Preston, Puddletown, Upwey and Warmwell.

A new map was unveiled at the event to show all the areas where fibre services will be available by Christmas and where the project plans to go next year. The interactive map is available at www.dorset-foryou.com/superfast

The Fibre to the Cabinet (FTTC) technology being used in the second phase can deliver download speeds of up to 80Mbps and upload speeds of up to 20Mbps through fibre running to a fibre optic street cabinet.

According to regulator Ofcom, the average download speed in Dorset is 10.9Mbps although many areas will be running at less than 2Mbps.

World Cup fever takes over Sealife park

RESIDENT creatures at Weymouth Sea Life Adventure Park have pledged their allegiance to their native or adopted countries during the forthcoming World Cup, which could lead to some interesting encounters over the next four weeks.

Visitors will be able to identify which creature is supporting which team by the sticker displayed on their tank. They can then head to Adventurer's Grill, give a small donation to the Sea Life Marine Conservation Trust charity and bet which animal they think will win in exchange for a raffle ticket.

Thirty-two raffle tickets will then be drawn on July 14th from the winner's pile, with 32 people winning a VIP animal feeding experience at the Park.

"A large number of creatures wanted to support England in the World Cup, but the common harbour seals were the obvious choice, and will be flying the flag right the way through to victory", said Marketing Co-ordinator Laura Culshaw.

The first creature clash will be Piranha's vs Moray Eels in a top trumps style social media campaign on the park's Facebook page.

Other top rivals include Lucia the octopus for Spain, Ali, Josie, Sharky and Gumbo the green sea turtles for USA, Cedar and his 10 team mates the Humboldt penguin colony for Chile and Johnny the otter and his sons representing Argentina.

The Weymouth Sea Life Adventure Park Facebook Page will feature all of the animals representing their country of nationality during the matches taking place over the next month.

Dorset Festival of Sports returns

WEYMOUTH and Portland Borough Council will be hosting the 2014 Dorset Festival of Sports to mark the second anniversary of the London 2012 Olympic and Paralympic sailing events in the borough.

The event takes place from Wednesday, July 16th to Sunday, August 3rd and includes a two day sports arena, two disability sports days, a team sports day, fun day, Batten Charity Volleyball Championship and RAF Beach Volleyball Classic.

Weymouth and Portland Borough Council tourism and culture briefholder, councillor Rachel Rogers said: "Weymouth and Portland had the eyes of the world on the area in 2012. The borough council along with other partners have worked hard to mark the anniversary of a brilliant summer with this year's Dorset Festival of Sports."

"The programme this year will be a fantastic opportunity for people to have a go at sports or cheer on as a spectator. We want to keep the sporting legacy of the games going."

Many Dorset based organisations will be taking part and visitors will be able to try a sport on land or water, inside and out and emulate their Olympic heroes and discover the many health, fitness and social benefits.

Organisations include: Weymouth Swimming Pool (Everyone Active), Dorset County Council and Weymouth and Portland Borough Council.

Dorset County Council cabinet member for community services, Colin Jamieson, said: "Dorset County Council has been organising the Disability Sports Festivals for the last seven years. We're proud that this year's events will give more than 500 Dorset adult and children with disabilities the chance to develop their potential and try a fantastic range of sports and activities. Who knows, it may even launch the career of a future Paralympian."

Conrad Humphreys, Managing Director of Sport Environment, the company behind the Ecover Blue Mile said: "Last year's inaugural Weymouth Ecover Blue Mile was a huge success and this year's is going to be even bigger. We had hundreds of people having a go at our taster sessions in kayaking and stand up paddle-boarding and we're looking forward to getting families involved again this summer."

"We'll also be having competitive races which are open to everyone and, for the first time this year, an open water one-mile swim – the Ecover Blue Mile. And be prepared for some competitive action in the aquatriathlon and team challenge."

As well as these sporting events, residents and visitors to the beach this summer will be greeted by the welcome return of one of 2012 biggest successes the ambassadors. They will be on hand during the two day Dorset Beach Sports Festival (July 26th and 27th), giving information about what is happening each day and about the area to visitors.

Read Easy in Weymouth!

■ A NEW group aimed at helping adults improve their literacy skills has launched in Weymouth and Portland.

Read Easy Weymouth and Portland offers a free, community-based literacy scheme to anyone over 18 who struggles with reading.

A spokesperson for the group said: "Many adults who find reading difficult often think it is too late to improve this skill and have completely given up. However, Read Easy has shown that it can be done with a gentle, confidential, one to one approach."

Trained volunteer reading coaches take new readers through their learning, step by step, going at their own pace and the whole process can take as little as six months.

To find out more information about Read Easy phone 0844 472 4827 or email: susan@readeasy.org.uk.

Sign up for knockout fundraiser

A DISABILITY charity based in Dorset has two spaces left for enthusiastic teams to take part in its second 'It's a Knockout' fundraising competition.

Diverse Abilities Plus are looking for two more teams to take part in the charity event which will take place on Sunday, June 22nd at Lodmoor Country Park in Weymouth, reliving the magic of TV's greatest tournament while raising money to support children and adults with disabilities in the county, and their families.

The event, supported by Weymouth and Portland Borough Council and Wave 105, is a fun-filled, action packed day of games replicating the BBC TV show that aired during the 1960s and 1980s. Teams will compete head to head with each other in many out of the ordinary games in a bid to be crowned victorious.

Entering a team is Lisa Noel, whose daughter Amelia attends Langside - the charity run special day school that provides education to 28 children from the ages of two to 19 who have special educational needs and physical difficulties, often with complex medical conditions. Lisa and her team - DAP Dozens - is made up of 11 friends and family, and three of the team's daughters also attend Langside or use the Project holiday activities service the charity runs.

The event starts at 2pm and finishes approximately around 4.30pm.

To take part a team of eight to 12 people are required and participants must be aged 16 years or older. All children under 18 must be accompanied by an adult.

Sharon Wells, Events Fundraiser at Diverse Abilities Plus, said: "We're really pleased that this event has gone so well and almost sold out. With only two more team places to fill why not get some friends, family or work colleagues together and join the fun in this action packed adventure race. By signing up for this amusing event, participants will be actively supporting the work of the local charity, and will have a lot of fun in doing so."

The team entry fee for the event is £120, which is approximately £10 per person for a full team. A minimum of £600 per team (just £50 per person to fundraise) is also required as sponsorship for the event.

The charity also has many other events up and coming during this year, including the famous Chinese Dragon Boat Race, the Kamikaze Run, a skydive, the Castaway Survival Challenge and much more.

For more information, or to book your team, contact Sharon Wells at Diverse Abilities Plus on 01202 718266 or email sharon.wells@diverseabilitiesplus.org.uk.

Law firms go head to head for charity

TWO Dorset law firms are going head to head in a series of fundraising challenges to help children affected by family separation.

Family lawyers from Battens Solicitors and Redferns Solicitors are hoping to raise £4,000 for the newly established national charity Kids in the Middle.

Both firms are founding partners of the charity, which is setting up a dedicated website that will enable children to share and discuss their experiences in safety. The service will be backed by professional counselling and mentoring.

The firms are staging a competitive quiz and treasure hunt to help fund the website's development.

The quiz will be held at the Oasis restaurant and wine bar on Weymouth Harbour-side tonight (June 18th) and the treasure hunt, which will be open to the public to take part, will follow Alice's Weymouth Adventure Trail. It will be on July 23rd starting at 6pm.

For more information on the treasure hunt, contact Georgina on 01305 823636 or Cherise on 01305 774666.

The Christian Column

AS I SEE IT ...

by Geoff Treleven

Recognising smells

ONE of our five senses makes us aware of a variation of odours, ranging from those which are pleasant to the unpleasant.

With a keen sense of smell, I can often interpret smells, especially those I find offensive.

I also have what I would call a memory bank of smells acquired over many years. When I worked in the lamp-making industry and visited the factory, there was a distinctive smell of molten glass which I think I would always recognise if I smelt it again. There was also the time when I worked in the pharmaceutical industry. The documentation of one preparation was so impregnated with a strong smell that showed what had been produced.

The Bible has a number of references to smells, including those that God finds pleasing when accompanied by a sincere heart.

Our aroma affects others in the sense of bringing life to some and death to those who are offended by our faith.

As the Bible says: "...we are to God the pleasing aroma of Christ among those who are being saved and those who are perishing. To the one we are an aroma that brings death; to the other, an aroma that brings life"

(2 Corinthians 2: 15-16).

Good weather for gardening!

HUNDREDS of plants were on offer when Wyke Regis Protection Society held an event in Weymouth.

Tables were set up in Wyke Gardens and loaded with everything from cacti to tomatoes and from marigolds to fuchsias.

Society chairman Richard Price said: "The weather was not wonderful, but we still had a lot of customers for which we were very grateful."

"It is the first time we have had rain during such an event, so I suppose we can't complain. At least it was good weather for gardeners!"

Weymouth Matters

A personal View by HARRY WALTON

A total rethink is needed

WARNING after warning has gone unheeded and now the dangers predicted for Weymouth's new traffic light system are starting to happen.

The town's previous network of roundabouts did grind to a halt at peak summer periods but worked well enough for the rest of the year, yet authorities drunk on an Olympic cocktail of work they crowded was cramming 20 years of "improvements" into a single year ripped all the roundabout out and put a widely hated traffic light system in its place.

So those same authorities shouldn't be too surprised that drivers who dislike spending more than two entire days of their life each year stuck in their cars waiting for the new system's lights to change are trying to cut down on that time.

The result is seeing thousands of drivers hurl their cars over the lights on yellow or even red, sometimes barely getting across before the next queue of drivers roars across the junction.

Police have already warned about the "racetrack" mentality the system is producing and it all came to a head with the first real burst of summer season traffic.

Drivers leaving town across the Swannery Bridge and waiting at the lights to cross over in to Abbotsbury Road found angry drivers coming down Weymouth Way were jumping the lights in a frustrated attempt to get in to Westwey Road.

But traffic was backed up from the Boot

Hill-Asda lights so they suddenly found themselves forced to a halt in the middle of the Abbotsbury Road junction which meant waiting traffic couldn't move an inch even when lights turned to green.

A few conciliatory waves and sheepish grins did little to cool tempers and the situation climaxed with blocked motorists actually having to drive towards Weymouth Way to inch their way round those cars blocking the way forward who had come on to the junction without first checking they could get off it.

If it sounds a bit snarled up then imagine what it was like being a driver in the middle of it!

Surely there must now be a total rethink on the system, a good start being to force the Brains Trust responsible for the lights system to actually spend a busy day experiencing it. They might then accept it isn't working although I doubt it.

You need eyes in the back of your head

YOU really do have to have eyes in the back of your head in Weymouth recently to avoid ramming cyclists.

A journey along Abbotsbury Road saw motorists edge fearfully in to the side of the road until one cyclist had gone by and why not...he was riding at speed on just his back wheel, the front being deliberately reared up in true show-off style!

Then there was the excellent example set by one adult cyclist leading a boy cyclist who couldn't have been more than ten years old the wrong way up a one way street in the town centre.

Add to this a scattering of cycling groups in all their colourful riding costumes festooned with various advertising messages, all bowling along riding two abreast, and you have a series of hazards enough to keep any car driver alert.

Fortunately very few cars are left now in the Weymouth area as they are mostly in garages having their springs repaired after negotiating recent roadworks at Greenhill and Preston Beach Road.

More than you think need help

THE work of the Salvation Army is legendary, but it also underlines just how important they are in Weymouth as a community lifeline.

The other day I was chatting with Salvation Army members and it emerged they cook and serve a regular Tuesday night hot meals to people living rough on the streets of Weymouth.

Commendable support for a few of society's unfortunates, I hear you say, well there are a lot more "unfortunates" than you might think. I'm told that they recently served a staggering total of 73 such meals in just half an hour while 60 meals is common. That's an awful lot of people living rough on the streets, a lot more than even I thought might be out there.

The Salvation Army's only source of revenue to pay for all this is the generosity of its members, what they can raise from coffee mornings and some food generously chipped in by local supermarkets, so anything readers can do to help them with this work can be taken along to the regular Thursday morning coffee mornings in the Citadel at Westham Road.

Families have various options for a funeral of their choice with personal care and attention provided by Jo Vassie and her team ensuring proceedings are run as smoothly as possible in order to experience a truly memorable occasion.

This year we have once again been voted Best Natural Burial Ground in the south west and the UK runner up in the Peoples awards. Dorset County Show has talent!

THE Bolddog Lings Freestyle Display Team

BRITAIN'S Got Talent semi-finalists The Bolddog Lings Freestyle Display Team are to top the bill at this year's Dorset County Show.

They have been booked to perform four stunt displays in the main ring over the show weekend on September 6th and 7th.

This year's show will also host the 2014 National Vegetable Society Championships with over 1,000 entries anticipated.

Around 2,000 animals are expected over the weekend at the showground on the outskirts of Dorchester with 90 different food options on offer with the Dorset Food Hall being expanded to accommodate 40 producers offering a range of local Dorset delicacies as well as live cooking demonstrations.

Early bird tickets are available now from the website for £10 per adult and all under 16s go free.

New wheelchairs to be rolled out in hospital

DORSET County Hospital is the first hospital in Europe to take delivery of new state-of-the-art wheelchairs.

The chairs, from medical equipment company Stryker, are proving extremely popular with patients, visitors and staff as they are easier to manoeuvre and more comfortable than traditional hospital wheelchairs.

Medical Devices Manager Frank Williams sourced the chairs after experiencing the traditional wheelchairs as a patient himself.

"We had been looking at getting some more modern wheelchairs and using one of the traditional chairs myself was a great way of seeing what features could be improved," he said.

"The Stryker chairs have larger wheels which make steering and cornering easy and the armrests fold back easily for better patient access.

"The push handles accommodate virtually any height of person and the flip-up footrests have a swing away function so they get out of the patient's way easily. There's also a one-touch central foot brake.

"Most importantly these chairs are also very comfortable and safe for the patient."

The hospital currently has 10 of the new chairs and plans to purchase more as part of its rolling replacement programme.

Nominations, which recognise achievement and excellent service, have to be made online by June 27th.

Councillor John Wilson, county council chairman said: "We'd like to hear from you if you've come in contact with a member of staff or team that you feel is making a real difference to the lives of people in Dorset.

"They could be providing care at home, collecting waste or simply answering your query at our contact centre. If you've been impressed by the extra-special service you received, please let us know and nominate them for a pride award."

To make a nomination go to www.dorsetforyou.com/prideawards. The winners will be announced at the awards ceremony on September 23rd.

MP welcomes drop in unemployment

WEST Dorset MP Oliver Letwin has welcomed news that unemployment in the area has fallen below one per cent, but called for more to be done to "raise the profile" of rural communities.

The Minister said there were "grounds for optimism" across the South West, and that he hoped other parts of the country would "follow the lead" of West Dorset and move towards full employment.

Writing in a post on his web site, Mr Letwin said: "I cannot remember the last time this happened – but it was certainly a very long time ago, and it is wonderful that we are now, locally, getting to within a whisker of full employment."

"I hope that, now the economic recovery has properly set in, we will see more and more of the country following West Dorset's lead and moving towards full employment."

"Of course we still need to do much more to stimulate the growth of jobs that are well-paid and rewarding in more ways than just financially."

"It is very reassuring that the great bulk of the jobs created in the last few years have been full-time rather than part-time, but we also need to ensure that the full-time jobs are really good jobs which will encourage people to remain in the South West and in West Dorset."

Mr Letwin reserved specific praise for the project to regenerate Bridport's Literary and Scientific Institute, plans for which were unveiled last week.

And he called for efforts to be made to boost West Dorset's rural communities.

He added: "I think we need to do more to raise the profile of the more rural parts of Dorset as a place where businesses of many types can flourish and can provide highly skilled and highly paid jobs."

"This is one of the reasons why I am so enthusiastic about projects like the revival of the Literary and Scientific Institute in Bridport – and it is also why I think we need to find more ways of enabling businesses like those on the Granby Industrial Estate or the Gore Cross Industrial Estate to locate in West Dorset."

"I sometimes get the feeling that there are people in West Dorset who doubt whether encouraging these sorts of world-class businesses to establish themselves locally is compatible with preserving the tranquility and beauty of our countryside and of our lovely rural towns. But I think there are actually very good grounds to be optimistic about this, too."

Council launch online support service for community groups

A NEW online "advice shop" has been launched to help community groups in Dorset.

The newly-launched pages, which have been created by West Dorset District Council and Weymouth and Portland Borough Council, aim to help community groups looking for support on a wide range of topics.

Advice on everything from how to manage projects, run and govern community groups, health and safety, fundraising and licensing is available.

Councillor Anthony Alford, Vice-Chairman of West Dorset District Council's Executive Committee, said: "Providing online advice for community groups who might be struggling with certain issues is important. Hopefully this will help them carry on being such a force for good in our district."

The new web pages also provide useful links to a range of organisations that offer help and support, including Dorset Community Action and the Volunteer Centre Dorset.

Alex Picot, Chief Executive of Dorset Community Action, said: "We are pleased to support the work of West Dorset and Weymouth Borough Councils in bringing together this useful introductory resource for local communities."

"Dorset Community Action looks forward to working with our council colleagues in supporting local groups and volunteers that play such an important role in delivering services for local people. These webpages will be another step in making it easier for groups to find the assistance they require."

Anybody not online can either request a paper copy of the information or come into a council reception and print off the pages they need.

The webpages can be found at - www.dorsetforyou.com/community-advice

More help and information is available from the Community Planning and Development Team at West Dorset District Council and Weymouth and Portland Borough Council, telephone 01305 252305.

Dorchester Hearing Centre

How's your hearing

CURRENTLY one in six people in the UK – an estimated 10 million people – have some form of hearing loss. Local Specialists, The Dorchester Hearing Centre have been raising awareness and understanding of the issues surrounding hearing for over 50 years now.

Jonathan Ormerod, hearing aid audiologist, and his team at the Centre are proud to be promoting this important healthcare issue. 'Most people will go and see a dentist or an optician, but don't think about their hearing in the same way. We are encouraging people to come and have a free hearing test.'

He continues, 'Often people think if they had a hearing impairment they would know. However, hearing loss happens gradually and the signs are subtle. Our ability to adapt to those small changes makes it difficult to accurately self-diagnose and other people may notice it first. It is easy to blame others for not speaking clearly or mumbling. But undiagnosed hearing loss can cause frustration and withdrawal, often placing an undue strain on relationships.'

'Patients are often surprised when I show them hearing aids. They remember their granny wearing a 'large beige banana' behind her ear. Advances in technology have made hearing aids remarkably discreet. There are even hearing aids now that you can control with your mobile phone.'

If you think your hearing is not what it once was or you know someone who does not hear so well, the Dorchester Hearing Centre are offering free initial consultations and hearing tests. Call them on 01305 260153 to book your priority appointment.

Susan Gale

Feeling good helps you look good, even to yourself

ARE you more critical of yourself than of others? Do you find it hard to accept compliments but easy to take on negative inputs? Do you hate how you look even though others say you look fine?

The mind is an amazing thing. Especially your subconscious mind. Generally it works well, and works automatically for us.

This is fine if it's repeating good stuff. But sometimes we can get stuck in repeating wrong stuff. Wrong attitudes, wrong reactions, wrong self-view...

Your subconscious mind is very powerful. So if it's stuck in a bad rut, you can be fighting yourself, wearing yourself out. And still not be able to break free. If you want to change for the better, hypnotherapy can help.

We're always better when we feel good. You look better, you have more energy and more interest in life. It's how we're meant to be. Maybe you just need a bit of help to clear some stuff and enjoy life to the full. Maybe it's long-standing difficulties that are getting in your way.

Susan Gale, of the Beltain Centre in Dorchester, can use hypnotherapy and her years of experience to help you.

She has a very down to earth approach and always tailors the therapy to the person.

Susan has been working as a hypnotherapist since 1989 and has helped many people. Take a look at her website www.beltain.co.uk or phone 01305 267069 to see how she could help you.

Dorset Weight Loss

Lose weight by changing your lifestyle habits and behaviour

CHARLIE Bartlett is a weight loss consultant specialising in behaviour change. She is a postgraduate of weight management as well as being qualified in life coaching and behaviour change. Over the past ten years, she has helped hundreds of people to lose weight and keep it off, and has now set up Dorset Weight Loss in Dorchester.

'Many research studies have shown that people can significantly increase their chances of losing weight and keeping it off when they receive behaviour change intervention as well as reducing calorie intake and increasing exercise. 95% of people who use a diet-only approach lose weight but then put it all back on – over and over again. So, what I do is give people a much more comprehensive approach to weight loss which uses not only a calorie-controlled diet but also behaviour change counselling. I help people make simple but effective changes to their lifestyle behaviour and habits so they can maintain the changes for the rest of their life.'

The new eight week weight loss and behaviour change programme is specially designed to give people the optimum chance of losing weight and keeping it off. All sessions are on a private 1-2-1 basis.

'I am so confident that people will lose weight on the programme that I offer a full refund for anyone who doesn't.' Isn't it time to try something different?

For further information, please contact Charlie Bartlett on 07846 433 765 or dorsetweightloss@outlook.com.

Southfield Vets

HERE at Southfield Veterinary Centre we pride ourselves on being at the forefront of the latest veterinary innovation and development. We feel that the prevention of disease is always the best approach and to that end have recently rolled out a new vaccination protocol for dogs targeting Leptospirosis. This nasty disease, which can be carried by rats, is most prevalent in rural areas and is extremely difficult to treat. Until recently we have vaccinated against the two most common strains but as it is a rapidly evolving disease other strains have become more common, widespread and equally deadly. In response our vaccine manufacturer has developed a new vaccine protecting against an extra two strains of the disease. Living in a rural area we feel this is important to offer our clients the very best up to date protection available.

At present we are seeing lots of ticks on our pets and have recently added a new product to our armoury against parasites. As a tasty tablet for dogs "Bravecto" offers an alternative to the other products available against ticks and fleas that provides three months protection from a single treatment. The manufacturers of this product are so confident that they even offer a money back guarantee if there are any treatment failures.

It is also worth remembering that June is National Pet Identification month. We recommend having your pets identified so if they get lost or stolen they can be easily traced and returned to you. Don't forget under government legislation it will become a legal requirement to have all dogs identified from 2016.

Lottery funding to display Bankes family history

THE Dorchester-based Dorset History Centre has received support from the Heritage Lottery Fund for its plans to allow better access to items relating to the Bankes family of Kingston Lacy.

The project aims to catalogue the archive of the Bankes family, former owners of Corfe Castle and Kingston Lacy, which spans 700 years.

Working with the National Trust and the Priest's House Museum in Wimborne, the project will also include a range of activities to engage with audiences through exhibitions, volunteer engagement and schools learning.

The centre has been given £23,500 to help it develop its plans with its partners and then to apply for a full grant in 2015.

The archive pre-dates the Bankes' purchase of Corfe Castle in 1635 and the project will catalogue the 800 boxes of historical information, conserving some of its fragile contents and digitising a range of important documentation.

The archive references hundreds of properties and thousands of people who lived and died within the orbit of the Bankes dynasty. The papers of William John Bankes, most prominent of the family include superb drawings charting his early 19th Century travels in the Middle East. He later went into exile and organised the re-design of Kingston Lacy from his home in Venice.

As a result of the project, Dorset schools will have access to a range of historical information and, through digital technology, the archive will also be available to the general public. A heritage apprentice will also be recruited, offering a young person a detailed insight into the management of heritage assets.

Exhibitions are planned for a range of venues and an oral history project will record

■ KINGSTON Lacy house, home of the Bankes family the memories of people with links to Kingston Lacy and the Bankes estates.

Sam Johnston, County Archivist, said: "This is a superb opportunity to take a remarkable collection of national and international importance out of its boxes and make it relevant to people today. It will also allow us to create a fantastic learning resource for schools so that pupils can learn more about Dorset's history.

Visit a dream, green home

A VISIT to a green, dream home is on offer for just £3 on Sunday, June 29th.

The members of LETS – a trades exchange scheme covering Weymouth and Dorchester – are inviting people to join them when they look round the Ourganics Permaculture Plot in Litton Cheney from 12.30-3.30pm.

Ourganics is a demonstration home and market garden. The house is self-built, low-impact, timber framed, made largely of recycled material and is not connected to the national grid.

Solar hot water is provided for an occasional hot tub, laundry and washing up. There is a gas and solar PV powered shower in the polytunnel.

The kitchen is outside, with an open firepit for cooking, and the house features a compost loo, a flood garden, forest garden, 28m polytunnel and willow beds.

The owner uses wood from a woodland planted 15 years ago, and grows seasonal flowers, fruit and vegetables to sell to local cafes, a box scheme and two farm shops.

Children are welcome but need to be closely supervised as there are deep ponds.

Numbers are limited – book with Sally Cooke on 01305 267758 or sal-cooke1@gmail.com.

Last chance to request bin changes

RESIDENTS have until tomorrow (Thursday, June 19th) to request different containers for the new Recycle for Dorset service starting in October.

The changes affect 50,000 households in Weymouth and Portland and part of West Dorset including Abbotsbury, Chickerell, Maiden Newton, Martin-stown, Sherborne and Yetminster, who should have received a leaflet last month.

Residents who think the service will not meet their needs should contact the Dorset Waste Partnership (DWP) by June 19th to make sure they get the right containers before October.

People can request help if they would be unable to move their containers themselves.

Households also have until June 19th to pay for a fortnightly garden waste collection.

The quickest way to make a request is online at www.dorsetforyou.com/recyclefordorset.

Alternatively, residents can call 01305 221040 between 8.30am and 5.30pm, weekdays.

ONLY THE FINEST FOLK IN LYME REGIS THIS AUGUST

LYME Folk Weekend is back with a bang this summer, once again featuring some of the country's leading lights in the folk world as well as the very best local talent, and finishing with a brilliant and unmissable family show.

The festival had a hugely successful first outing last August with crowds enjoying the beautiful late summer sunshine, flocking to Lyme as the town came alive with music and dancing.

And this year's event, from August 29th-31st, looks like being even better, with three fabulous

Marine Theatre shows, great live music nightly on the Pilot Boat second stage, Morris parade including the return of the amazing Steampunk Morris, street theatre, busking, singarounds, story-telling and countless other activities and attractions.

Tickets are already on sale for the three Marine Theatre shows, which kick off on Friday August 29th with the legendary Martin Simpson, widely acknowledged as one of the finest acoustic guitarists in the world. Multi-award winner Martin's solo shows are intense, eclectic, spellbinding, and deeply moving.

Also appearing on Friday night is Jim Causley, a massive favourite from last summer's festival, Jim returns to charm us once again, this time as part of a brand new duo with guitarist Lukas Drinkwater.

Saturday night brings an opportunity to see the wonderful Lisa Knapp, firmly established as one of the most creative and distinctive artists around. Her critically acclaimed album, Hidden Seam, includes the haunting Two Ravens, winner this year of Best Original Song at the Radio 2 Folk Awards. She is bringing her band to Lyme, the perfect setting for her beautiful, dramatic and adventurous songwriting.

Also back due to popular demand are Ducie, who blew audiences away last summer. The Mancunian quartet are here again with their thrillingly unique virtuoso style. Don't miss it.

And finally to Sunday afternoon – hold on to your hats for the wonderful Demon Barbers XL, we guarantee you've never experienced anything quite like it.

The Barbers bring their no-holds-barred approach to the concert stage with a modern new twist on their award-winning Roadshow. Come and see the UK's most exciting young folk, hip hop and break dancers in the live folk music spectacular of the year. Truly one for all the family.

World Music From Joe Driscoll and Sekou Kouyate

Plus support from Dorset based singer/songwriter Gris-Gris

AFRICA'S most hypnotic Kora player Joe Driscoll has joined forces with New Yorker Joe Driscoll, whose musical style is heavily influenced by folk and hip hop. They don't speak the same language but their debut album Faya has proved to be an unexpected success. There will also be support from Dorset singer songwriter Gris-Gris.

The duo met in port city of Marseilles, home to many a nomadic soul. Sekou Kouyate, originally from Guinea was raised in a large musical family tradition. Yet it is his ability to take his extraordinary playing and transcend this tradition that has set him apart.

Guitarist Joe Driscoll, is the man Cee-Lo Green labelled 'the gangsta with an iron lung'. He has been touring steadily for years, spreading his unique fusion of folk and hip-hop. The result is a mad fusion of afro beat, hip-hop, folk, and reggae, that defies any simple tags or description.

After a few weeks of improvising and jamming together, they had found a musical bond of kindred spirits. Though from different ends of the Earth and different cultures, they had reached the same path by ignoring all musical and physical boundaries in the pursuit of true inspiration.

Sekou said of the partnership: "He doesn't speak any French, and I speak no English... but through music, we understand"

Dorset based singer/songwriter Gris-Gris will open the show, she loves to tell the stories that exist within everyday life and history, often finding that truth can be stranger than fiction. Hypnotic guitar riffs in off-kilter rhythms combine with blues tinged vocal melodies and ethereal harmonies.

Sekou Kouyate and Joe Driscoll play at Bridport Arts Centre on Tuesday, June 24th at 8pm.

Tickets £14/£13/£12 from Bridport Arts Centre Box office 01308 424204 or visit the website at www.bridport-arts.com

The Ballad of Martha Brown

A dark and moving tragicomedy about the last woman to be publicly hanged in Dorset as witnessed by a young Thomas Hardy 1856. A tale of jealousy and passion. An ordinary woman and her ordinary husband, a hatchet grabbed in haste, a murder, an accused horse, a black silk dress, and the mob at the hang-fair who gawp in glee. Angel Exit's new show, The Ballad of Martha Brown, uses wicked humour, ensemble storytelling and macabre songs as a grim chorus of hollow-eyed storytellers invite you into their mysterious world where Martha's life is played out under the constant stare of the gallows above.

Martha began life as a dairy-maid in Powerstock, a hard life of mud and toil, and after surviving her first husband and her two children, she gave up on the notion of happiness until she met her second husband John Brown. He was twenty years her junior and theirs was a passionate relationship which descended into domestic violence and infidelity. Angel Exit look at the circumstances that catapulted Martha Brown from being an insignificant milk-maid to an infamous murderess tried in Dorchester County Court and hanged by the infamous hangman William Calcraft in front of 3000 people.

Audiences will be moved by the touching humanity of a relationship on the rocks and then find themselves laughing at the absurdity of Martha's situation as highlighted by the mischievous chorus of storytellers.

Angel Exit perform The Ballad of Martha Brown in Bridport and Lyme Regis this week. On Thursday, June 19th, 7.30pm at the Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis - tickets are £12 or £8 (concessions). To book tickets, contact TIC on 01297 442138 or visit www.marinetheatre.com.

“There is so much vivid theatricality and inventiveness at work here that I am already looking forward to its next show”

Lyn Gardner,
The Guardian

The show will be performed at Bridport Arts Centre at 7.30pm on Friday, June 20th and Saturday, June 21st - tickets are £12, £10 and £8, available from www.bridport-arts.com or by calling 01308 424204.

Grade II listed Manor Yard transformed into a magical venue

THREE years ago Manor Yard was a somewhat dishevelled Grade II listed 18th Century stables and barn in the centre of the village of Symondsbury. Now after major renovation it has been transformed into a stunning and magical venue along with a café "Symondsbury Kitchen".

As it now stands the main Cider Barn houses the Symondsbury Estate Office. The stables have remained as they have always been and are currently empty. Gillian Hulse Glass is now occupying one of the artisan units and "The Shed" Hair & Beauty Salon now occupies 2 of the units. The last remaining unit will be opening as Symondsbury Estate Farm Shop very soon!

The Old Milking Shed to the right of the yard is now operating as Symondsbury Kitchen – a newly renovated state of the art café, with view of Colmers Hill when seated outside. The café is open seven days a week, from 9am – 5pm, with offers on freshly prepared breakfast, lunch, and afternoon teas. Although closed most evenings, it is open occasionally for special events and is available for private hire, with a separate private dining room.

The food served in the café is all locally sourced as you'd expect, with the vegetables and salad leaves from their very own Symondsbury Estate garden. They use a range of local suppliers for everything else, even down to the tea to quench your afternoon thirst coming from the fabulous Dorset Tea.

The café is now fully licensed and is serving alcohol!

Manor Yard is very proud to be hosting it's first local art exhibition, "Three's Company".

Billie Willcocks, Brian Cocks & Mike Jackson are the local artists that make up the "Three's Company" exhibition at The Old Pottery from Friday, June 20th to Thursday, July 3rd. The paintings will be exhibited for two weeks with the preview for the exhibition on Friday, June 20th where you can meet the artists and join them for drinks and canapés between 5pm and 7pm.

An interesting mix of land and seascapes – with a variety of medium including Acrylic, Gouache, Watercolour, Ink and Charcoal.

"I am so excited about being able to exhibit in Manor Yard, the space available is so beautiful" Billie Willcocks announces, "From the moment the dates were confirmed I haven't stopped painting!"

The Tithe Barn will be available for viewings during these two weeks for Weddings, Events and Private Hire. Symondsbury Kitchen will be open serving breakfast, lunch and afternoon tea so please come and see for yourself how Manor Yard has been transformed.

This month: The Symondsburry Estate

Jazz Brunch at The Tithe Barn, Manor Yard, Symondsburry

SYMONDSBURRY Estate are holding their first Jazz Brunch at The Tithe Barn in Manor Yard, Symondsburry. The Frank Griffith Trio will be performing a mixture of mainstream and modern jazz on Sunday 20th July from 11am – 2pm, followed by DJ James Baker finishing up with a little jazz on the decks. Enjoy the soothing sounds with a delicious brunch in the beautiful surroundings of Manor Yard.

Heading up the trio is Frank Griffith – born in Eugene, Oregon – and having previously lived & worked in New York he has worked alongside Ron Carter, Mel Tormé, Dame Cleo Laine & many others.

He has also played lead alto with the Glenn Miller Orchestra. He's no stranger to the area as he has played annually at the Bridport Arts Centre since 2010 featuring the music of Miles Davis, Dave Brubeck and Stan Getz. Joining Frank is Mike Outram – a Manchester born guitarist who has been known to grace the stage with Martin Speake, Herbie Mann, Tim Garland and the widely-loved pianist and folksmith Billy Bottle. Also on the stage will be Julian Bury who has played with everyone from Gilbert O'Sullivan to Bobby Wellins and Jim Mullen.

After the trio have performed DJ James Baker will play a selection of Jazz on the decks to wind down the event.

Julia Butcher - Marketing Manager for Symondsburry Estate says "We are immensely excited to be planning our first Music event in Symondsburry. Even more exciting is the fact we are holding the event in the Tithe Barn! This marks the long awaited completion of renovations at Manor Yard in Symondsburry, it would be great to see as many people there as possible to join in the celebrations, and what better way to do it than with a little jazz!!"

There will be a full bar available – and we will be introducing the Manor Yard Bloody Mary – a concoction of Black Cow Vodka & Dorset Tomato Juice.

Tickets are £10, which includes entry and the brunch. Alternatively you can pay just £5 for the Jazz only. Tickets are on sale now! You can either book via the website www.symondsburryestate.co.uk, from the Symondsburry Estate Office or Symondsburry Kitchen at Manor Yard (01308 424116).

A MAJOR part of our enjoyment of life is music. 'One Voice' choir Weymouth has put together an exciting mixture of old and new for us to celebrate: This is the time... for Music! Beginning with medieval and working through baroque music we quickly move through the ages to the 20th Century sounds, all for your pleasure.

HEADLINER ANNOUNCED FOR BIG MIX FESTIVAL

ORGANISERS of this years Big Mix festival in Lyme Regis have released details of the headline act who are performing at this years event on July 5th as well as the chance to buy early bird tickets for the event. The festival, which is run by B Sharp, is finalising the line-up for the day which will include around 25 young acts from the South West.

This years headline act is Stony Browder Jnr, who play fast and funky mutant disco and are touring throughout Europe, bringing their jungle set to festivals and gathering devoted fans along the way! They have been recommended by Papa Le Gal, last year's headliner, who have shared a stage with them and know they are just the act for the final party spot. "We always wanted an upbeat, party band to end the night", said Pete Wild, co-organiser of The Big Mix, "and when JV from Papa Le Gal showed us footage of Stony Browder Jnr. we knew they were perfect. They are a true up and coming band who are touring extensively and have a real musicality, so they will complement our young musicians perfectly."

This year's lineup provides 10 hours of non stop music; an eclectic mix of upbeat and groove based acts including disco, jazz, rock, rap, latin, indie, folk and electronic music.

Set against the stunning backdrop of Lyme Bay in the Theatre Square, next to the Marine Theatre in Lyme Regis, this one-day music festival is back by popular demand, bringing to your doorstep a showcase of some of the most exciting vibrant young music acts around. Last year audiences swelled throughout the day with everyone dancing into the night.

B Sharp Director Fran Williams says "B Sharp, The Marine Theatre and other festival partners learnt a lot last year about how to deliver a great festival; and this year promises to be better still, with ticketing, security, stage, sound, and catering all improved. All the proceeds will go back into the B Sharp Big Mix pot ensuring this event can run in the future. In partnership with local traders and volunteers we will provide stalls, BBQ, the Aroma Pop Up café and the Theatre Bar (18+). All this and the hammocks, flags and deckchairs are returning for a 2nd year."

"This festival is for all: young people, families, in fact people of all ages. The message is be sure to get your tickets early, put the day in your diary and get ready to dance as it's quote s Big Mix festival time!"

Early Bird Tickets for under 16s are available from Lyme Regis Tourist Information office Telephone: 01297 442138 E-mail: lymeregis.tic@westdorset-weymouth.gov.uk

The Big Mix is organised by B Sharp, an inspiring and progressive youth music organisation, working with partners and young people to develop local skills and opportunities for young people. B Sharp welcomes offers of financial support and help with fundraising.

Organisers are looking for volunteers to help steward and for a before and after festival support team for the Big Mix event. Please get in touch if you can offer assistance. Contact B Sharp's Director by emailing franwilliams@bsharp.uk.com, or call 07968 1777 663 or 01297 444 252

Tickets selling fast for Bridport music festival

WITH a month to go the Jurassic Fields Music Festival 2014 is catching the imagination of the public with tickets selling fast for the event to be held at Asker Meadows, Bridport on Saturday July 12th.

The first of its kind in West Dorset, the daylong 'not for profit' event runs from 10am until 11pm and offers a day of music, comedy and fun for all the family.

The music will be held over two stages with a main stage and one smaller acoustic one, and will complement each other to allow a continuous flow of music throughout the day. The acts will consist of mainly local bands with a more mainstream known band Dodgy, headlining on the main stage to close the festival.

Dodgy, an English power pop rock trio that rose to prominence during the Brit-pop era of the 1990s who are best known for their hits "Staying Out for the Summer", "If You're Thinking of Me", and "Good Enough".

Local Weymouth band The Leggomen are headlining the acoustic stage. This very popular trio have developed a large set list with a blend of modern pop & rock as well as older classic songs.

Also performing are a mix of local talent as well as up and coming bands from around the South West including The Rising who recently supported The Feeling and Razorlight at Plymouth's Volkfest Event.

Other bands playing include : Jonathan Cotton, The Transitions, Vanilla Radio, The Mutter Slater Band, Funky Munks, Elijah Wolf, Sam Rich, Daisy Wardle, Peter James Milson, Mr B the Gentlemen Rhymer, Shelby's Elbows, Peter Crawford and Logan Carter.

To find out more about the bands playing as well as links to their music you can follow the link on the festival webpage: <http://jurassicfields.com/band-biographies/>.

Nine comedians headed by Joel Dommett will be making the day go with a laugh on the Comedy stage.

Dommett has had a hugely exciting career since starting stand up comedy in 2007.

He was the face of MTV in 2012 and presented their daily news bulletins, and has also worked on the live new Channel 4 after show, Live in Chelsea, How to Survive a Disaster Movie (Channel 5) and the hugely successful Impractical Jokers (BBC3).

Joel is one of the fastest rising stars on the UK comedy circuit having gained rave reviews for his debut solo Edinburgh show, Neon Hero, in 2011 and second show 'Nunchuck Silver Medallist 2002' in 2012.

He has since performed stand up on Russell Howard's Good News on BBC Three and has numerous acting credits to his name, including Popatron on BBC

Two and Skins on E4.

As well as the bands and comedy there is also a kids funfair, children's entertainment and free face painting as well as a number of food and clothing stalls.

Recently arranged is the increasingly popular Body Zorbing that is sure to be a bit of fun for adults and children alike.

The organisers have been running various fundraising events in the run up to the festival including a race night and duck race which has raised over £2000 towards the cost of the event.

The festival is aimed at being a community event with all profits being reinvested. Eighty per cent of any profit generated will be used to make next year's occasion bigger and better, whilst 10 per cent will be donated to local music projects in and around West Dorset, with the rest going to a local charity or club chosen by the festival committee from all applications.

To get your tickets before they all sell out you can visit Bridport, Sherborne, Dorchester or Lyme Regis Tourist Information Centre or you can also call the ticket hotline on 01308 424901. Tickets are also available to be purchased online via the website at <http://www.jurassicfields.com/tickets>

Acclaimed Tyneside vocalist Zoë Gilby ventures south for Bridport debut

Zoë Gilby will be singing her unique take on jazz with Philip Clouts at the piano in the Jazz Café at Bridport Arts Centre on Friday, June 20th.

Zoë Gilby is an ambitious jazz vocalist and songwriter from the North East of England who is steadily gaining a national reputation. A constantly expanding repertoire starts with her compelling original compositions and includes a wide range of more contemporary material from composers such as Pink Floyd through to Kate Bush, as well as some superb interpretations of "The Great American Songbook."

In December 2013 Zoe's third album "Twelve Stories" was released, a powerful collection of songs with a strong narrative, delivered with a commanding mix of musical sophistication and dramatic edge. The original material is an engaging repertoire of story telling and atmosphere. The contemporary covers are an adventurous blend and the sensitive treatment to a couple of jazz standards completes this particular "story-book"

Zoë's late father Mike Gilby was a respected trumpeter and arranger - he passed on his passion for music and has been a huge influence in Zoe's musical journey. She studied music for two years at Newcastle College and later attended Fionna Duncan's Vocal Jazz Workshop in Glasgow. Her influences include Carmen McRae, Nancy Wilson and Sheila Jordan to name but a few. Zoë is well deserving of the respect that she has been receiving from many jazz publications, and she has performed with some of the UK top jazz musicians, including Alan Barnes, Dave Newton and Jim Mullen.

Zoë has performed to international audiences in China, Finland and Ireland as well as continuing to tour extensively at venues and festivals across the UK.

Zoë Gilby performs with Philip Clouts at Bridport Arts Centre on Friday, June 20th at 8pm. Tickets are £10 available from the Box Office on 01308 424204. For more details visit www.bridport-arts.com

Up to 40 Balloons in Devon for Annual Balloon and Music Festival!

THE Tiverton Balloon and Music Festival have announced that a record number of Hot Air Balloons will be attending and participating in this year's ballooning extravaganza. The Festival will be taking place at the combined Petroc and Tiverton High School Campus on Friday 11th, Saturday 12th and Sunday, July 13th, with up to 40 Hot Air Balloons from across the country due to take part.

Previous years have seen as many as 30 Hot Air Balloons fly high above Mid Devon, turning the skies into a mass of colour, as well as performing in the Fire and Light Shows and taking part in the popular Public Interaction Sessions, where festival goers can get up close and personal to the balloons themselves. With the Festival growing year on year, 2014 will see an even greater number of balloonists visiting the South West to take part in this dazzling event.

Festival Organiser, Charlie Street, said of this year's record number of Balloons, "It's fantastic to see this event being both well received by the local community as well as by the national ballooning community. More balloons attending this year will result in larger "Fire & Light" shows taking place, greater morning & evening mass ascents and better afternoon public interaction sessions being put on for festival goers. To date we've raised over £25,000 for local charities, clubs and organisations and with more balloons taking part this year, alongside our increase in camping capacity, I'm sure we're going to be able to build on this figure."

In addition to the balloons themselves the Festival will have over 50 musicians and bands performing across two Music Stages, showcasing a diverse range of musical talent from around the UK. There will also be Aerial Displays featuring RC Helicopters, an On-Site Planetarium, a Comedy Night on Friday, Falconry Displays, Circus Skills and Drumming Workshops, Artisan Craft Stands, award winning Food and Drinks Stalls and a Kids' Zone.

Detached four bedroom house in Lyme Regis

Set in a residential area near the amenities of Lyme Regis is this detached four bedroom house. We understand the property to date from the 1920's and retains many period features including picture rails, stripped wooden flooring, fireplaces etc. The accommodation further includes lounge, dining room, kitchen/breakfast room, conservatory and bathroom. Outside there is off road parking and enclosed rear garden. A sea view can be obtained from several rooms of the house. The property is located in the coastal town of Lyme Regis on the Dorset Coastline. The town enjoys a mix of everyday shops and banks along with facilities more orientated for the holiday market. The sea and beach can be reached on foot from the property. The guide price is £575,000. For more information please call Palmer Snell on 01297 443556.

Thatched period cottage in the popular village of Broadwindsor

A thatched period cottage situated within its own grounds on the outskirts of this popular village with amenities. Shepherds Cottage was built circa. 1800 of local Hamstone and under a thatched roof, the current owners further extended the accommodation in 1973. With beautiful far-reaching countryside views to the South and East, three double bedrooms, good-sized gardens, outbuilding, workshop and double garage the property has much to offer.

Accommodation would benefit from modernisation and includes many period features such as exposed stonework, original beams, an Inglenook fireplace, window seats, wooden latched doors and a flagstone courtyard. The front storm porch leads to the well planned accommodation that includes an entrance hall with cloakroom, double-aspect drawing room, sitting room, kitchen with dining area and stable door to the garden. On the first floor there are three good-sized double bedrooms and a family bathroom. The cottage benefits from oil-fired central heating throughout and partial secondary-glazed windows. Outside the driveway offers ample parking for several vehicles and leads to a double garage which adjoins the workshop and utility/outbuilding, front courtyard with raised borders and a large rear garden that sweeps around the cottage from north-east to south-west. Marketed with no onward chain Shepherds Cottage is definitely a must see.

Accommodation includes: Entrance Hall – Sitting Room – Kitchen with Dining Area – Drawing Room – Cloakroom – Three Double Bedrooms – Bathroom – Utility/Outbuilding – Workshop – Double Garage – Large Gardens – Vegetable Garden – Summer House – Far Reaching Views of the Surrounding Countryside

The asking price for Shepherds Cottage is £355 000. To receive particulars or to arrange a viewing please contact Elder & Froy at our Beaminster office on 01308 862606. To view the full sale particulars and floor plans please go to www.elderfroy.co.uk.

The New BMW M3 Saloon and BMW M4 Coupé

▲ The new BMW M3 Saloon and M4 Coupé

THE launch of the new BMW M3 Saloon and new BMW M4 Coupé heralds the arrival of the fifth-generation of the iconic high-performance sports car from BMW M. For the first time the Coupe and Saloon models receive individual model names, in deference to the different model series that provide their basis.

Another first is the adoption of a turbocharged engine for this BMW M model: the high-revving, 3.0-litre six-cylinder in-line engine with M TwinPower Turbo technology has been specifically developed for this purpose, and produces a maximum output of 431hp. Its peak torque of 550Nm is available across a very wide rev range starting at just 1,850rpm, and exceeds the figure recorded by the outgoing BMW M3 by roughly 40 per cent. In spite of this, the new engine also achieves a reduction in fuel consumption and emissions of around 25 per cent.

To maximise dynamic ability and ensure excellent efficiency, a weight loss of over 80kgs has been achieved compared to a comparably equipped predecessor model. Specific weight-saving measures include the increased use of lightweight materials: both models now feature a carbon-fibre reinforced plastic roof.

BMW M engineers have paid particular attention to the car's aerodynamic performance, and incorporated the latest Active M Differential amongst numerous other technical highlights. During the development process the engineers worked closely with BMW Motorsport's professional racing drivers, with extensive testing and set-up work carried out on the Nürburgring Nordschleife circuit.

The balance of the overall concept: high power, low weight, driving pleasure.

The new BMW M3 Saloon and new BMW M4 Coupé are formed from a host of finely blended elements, all working in perfect harmony to deliver outstanding performance, precision and agility on road and track.

With the new BMW M3 Saloon and M4 Coupé, the engineers sought to optimally channel the air around the car in the quest for ultimate performance, while also ensuring the engine, powertrain and brakes receive the requisite cooling. Even when operating under heavy loads on the racing circuit. The aggressively styled front apron, smooth under-body and the clearly defined lip spoiler at the rear of the M3 Saloon (or integrated bootlid spoiler at the rear of the BMW M4 Coupé) reduce lift by an equal amount at the front and rear axle, to the benefit of handling.

Albert Biermann, Head of Development at BMW M GmbH, said: "The way in which we channel the inflowing air through the engine oil cooler creates a venturi effect, which reduces front axle lift and, in so doing, improves the steering."

The Aero Curtain and M side gills, the latter with integrated Air Breathers minimise turbulence in the front wheel arches. These elements, together with the aerodynamically optimised side mirrors in familiar M twin-stalk style, are not only distinctive design features, they also help to reduce drag.

The new six-cylinder in-line engine: highrevving, turbocharged unit combines the best of both worlds.

The new BMW M3 Saloon and new BMW M4 Coupé mark a return to the classic six-cylinder in-line engine configuration, as used on the second and third- generations of this iconic sports car.

The new engine sees a slight power upgrade over the previous V8 to 431hp, now delivered between 5,500 and 7,300rpm, with maximum revolutions set at an unusually high figure for a turbocharged engine: 7,600rpm. Peak torque has been increased by roughly 40 per cent to 550Nm, and is maintained over a very wide rev range (1,850–5,500rpm). The standard sprint from 0–62mph takes both cars just 4.3 seconds with manual transmission, or just 4.1 seconds with the optional M DCT, while the top speed is 155mph (electronically limited). The new powerplant also boasts excellent fuel economy: the combined consumption in the EU cycle is as high as 34mpg and CO2 emissions are as low as 194g/km, an improvement of more than 25 per cent over the previous model's figures. Regulated pollutant emissions are EU6-compliant.

The M TwinPower Turbo technology comprises two fast-responding mono- scroll turbochargers, High-precision direct injection, VALVETRONIC variable valve timing and Double-VANOS continuously variable camshaft timing. VALVETRONIC and Double-VANOS work in tandem to seamlessly control intake valve lift. The result is a smooth and efficient power delivery, with very sharp response and reduced fuel consumption and emissions.

Weymouth Basketball Club - annual awards evening

Basketball club celebrate successful season

WEYMOUTH Basketball Club marked the end of their 2013-14 season with their annual presentation, celebrated at Aura Restaurant and Bar on the seafront.

The club continues to find success, developing their nine teams; as well as having two junior players, Matthew Williams-Davey and Jerry Thompson, called up to the Dorset regional team, whilst the senior men won the Exeter & District Division 2 playoff.

Highlights also include improvements in the youth development programme, co-ordinated by Alex Fuhrmann, on Saturday afternoons.

The U12/U14/U16 all competed in the Dorset Storm central venue leagues, with U12 and U14 both finding top half success in their respective leagues. The U9 program also continues to grow as the club registered a record number within the age group, offering sessions for only £1 per child.

The men's teams; Bandits, Cowboys and Raiders all showed a competitive spirit in their respective leagues with mixed results. Cowboys showed their worth, winning some very high profile games in their respective competition.

Bandits had the hardest task in Solent Division One finishing bottom of their table, and Raiders with their first year in Solent Division Four, were able to stay away from the bottom of the table with a solid run to close the season.

Weymouth Huskies showed determination and promise, switching back to the Exeter & District ladies competition and landing of a very respectable 5th place in their most successful season to date.

Presentations were made to individual players from each team in the club, whilst three more awards were also made to those in the club who had made the effort off the court, with Eric Olson winning the Coach of the Year for his continued work with the U14 team as well as running the Cowboys team.

Olsen also won the annual Huw Price Service to Basketball Trophy in recognition of his willingness to represent the club as a county referee.

There was also the creation of a new award to the club, allowing players to vote for their own players' player. It went down to the line as the contest was decided by a single vote in favour of Vitoldas Balciunas.

Club Development Officer, U16 Coach and 1st Team Coach Alex Fuhrmann said: "We would like to thank all members and parents for attending the evening, and especially Aura for their support."

"We will still strive to have a positive impact on our community and are excited about moving forward."

The club maintains training throughout the summer and welcome those who wish to attend. For more details of current training and the new season in September, visit www.weymouthbasketball.co.uk.

Cricket - A View From the boundary

Tucker's tornado puts Cattistock clear

WITH STUART BROOM

FOR the second week running Steve Tucker and Dan Belt make the headlines in the Dorset Funeral Plan.

Tucker followed up his blistering 98 last week with an even more impressive 158 as Cattistock put daylight between themselves and the chasing pack with a crushing 215 run victory at Wimborne & Colehill 3rd's.

Meanwhile Dorchester's captain Belt steered the county town to victory over previously unbeaten Martinstown, taking three wickets and then hitting the winning runs that sees them move above their local rivals into second place.

Weymouth's recent winning spell came to a halt with a disappointing defeat at Wimborne & Colehill.

WIMBORNE & COLEHILL 273-8

BEAT WEYMOUTH 150-8 BY 123 RUNS
WEYMOUTH slipped to their second defeat of the season and to fifth place in the league with this disappointing loss at Wimborne & Colehill.

Despite another excellent spell of bowling from Dave Trotter conceding just 20 runs from his ten overs, opening bat Joe Weld put the Weymouth team to task with a masterful 111, well supported by James Williams (70), the pair putting on 144 for the third wicket.

Only the introduction of John Ryan with 4-17 late in the innings finally brought any relief to the Seaside; Jim Ryall collecting another three victims behind the stumps.

Only Simon Browne with a dogged unbeaten half century got to grips with the home attack, finishing 54 not out in a total of 150-8.

DORCHESTER 156-3 BEAT

MARTINSTOWN 155 ALL OUT BY 7 WICKETS

THIS eagerly anticipated game ended in a decisive victory for Dorchester. Martinstown arrived at the Rec unbeaten, whilst the county town after a patchy start were looking to put a good run together.

Unfortunately Martinstown were missing four regulars including spinner Ryan Chase who has taken 15 wickets in just four games this season, and Ross Stewart who has been prolific with both bat and ball.

Regardless of this, Dorchester had to thank Will Caldwell and Quenton Miller for a fine second wicket partnership of 85 that set the platform for their victory.

Winning the toss Martinstown batted but found opening bowlers Dan Belt and Eamonn Scott hard to get away, and after 18 overs only had 35 on the board and Dave Herbert (9) back in the pavilion, bowled by Belt.

Henry Lewis (32) batted well and despite losing skipper Ed Nichols (8), looked to be building a good partnership with Jack James (23) until he ran himself out. With spinners Caldwell (3-26) and Joe Power (2-42) also keeping a tight rein, wickets began to tumble regularly. James Reynolds (11) and Teddy Andrews (18) showed resistance but Belt (3-21) came back to tidy up the tail to see Martinstown bowled out for a fairly paltry 155 all out.

Pete Moxom (16) looked in good form in reply until he found a leading edge and was caught at mid-off with the score on 26, but Caldwell (35) and Miller (40) played sensibly and with restraint before they were both trapped leg before by Reynolds (2-10) to leave Dorchester on 114-3.

However Fergus Guppy (21no) and Belt (19no) saw them comfortably home with seven wickets to spare.

Nichols said: "It was a blow to be without four regulars, particularly Ryan Chase who has taken a lot of wickets already, and Ross Stewart who has been in form, but we didn't quite get going against some tight bowling; we needed to someone to get a big score and it didn't happen. Henry Lewis played very well until he ran himself out, and both James Reynolds and Teddy Andrews did well with both bat and ball."

Belt was delighted with his charges in the field, but picked out Caldwell and Miller for special praise.

"It was their partnership that won the game for us; they did the perfect job and laid the foundation for the win.

"I thought we did extremely well to restrict them to 155 on what was a 220 wicket.

"We kept it tight and although we didn't get too many wickets early on we didn't let them get away and restricted them to two or three runs an over.

"Spinners Will Caldwell and Joe Power then took over and found a little bit of turn which saw them struggle even more.

"They are a good team so to win in the way we did was very pleasing."

County Division Two

WIMBORNE & COLEHILL 3RD 147 ALL OUT LOST TO CATTISTOCK 362-5 BY 215 RUNS

STEVE Tucker was once again the man of the match, following his quickfire 98 last week with an even more impressive 158 as Cattistock strolled to victory at Wimborne & Colehill 3rds.

Even the prolific Jon Legg, who scored 93 last week and followed with another impressive innings of 101, had to take a back seat as the pair put on 259 for the second wicket, after Mike White had gone for 23 with the score on 46.

Tucker blasted the home bowlers to all corners of the ground, hitting 17 sixes and 9 fours. He only faced 64 balls, 17 of them dot balls, and his second 50 came off just ten deliveries.

Billy Walbridge finished 31 not out as the visitors racked up a massive 362-5 in their allotted overs.

D Hicks (32) top scored for Wimborne as they regularly lost wickets to Bradley Damen (2-40), Legg (3-21) and Ben Gollidge (3-30) to be dismissed in less than 30 overs.

PORTLAND RT 309-6 BEAT

BEAMINSTER 151 ALL OUT BY 158 RUNS

PORTLAND won the toss and their openers Dave Adkins (68) and Matt Randall (83) immediately put Beaminster's bowler's under pressure with aggressive running between the wickets and powerful hits to all parts of the small ground.

Wickets were hard to come by on the flat track as Beaminster's weakened line-up struggled for control or containment. Portland's top six batsman all made useful contributions particularly the excellent Randall who smashed a classy 83.

The only positives for Beaminster were three fine catches including Jack Walklett's effort; running and diving full stretch. Portland closed their innings on 309-6; a superb effort by the high flying team.

In reply, Beaminster's openers Chris Lamb and Walklett (23) showed some resistance, putting on 60 for the first wicket, with Lamb batting well throughout to make a fine 80.

At the other end wickets fell regularly as Beaminster were unable to keep up with the run rate with only Ross baker (14) reaching double figures.

The damage was done by spinner Chris Leake (4-36) who dismissed the top four visiting batsman, as Beaminster were dismissed in the 43rd over for 151.

WEYMOUTH 2ND 183-8 LOST TO

DORCHESTER 2ND 184-5 BY 5 WICKETS
DORCHESTER 2nds moved off the bottom with their first win of the season in this local derby leaving Weymouth 2nds in bottom spot.

BRIDPORT 85 ALL OUT LOST TO

SHERBORNE 2ND 126 ALL OUT BY 41 RUNS

MARK Smith gave a captain's performance in his last game before handing over the reins to Duane Gay, but it couldn't prevent Bridport from failing to overtake Sherborne 2nds small target of 127 for victory.

Smith who has found it impossible to continue leading the side because of a change of job and moving to Yeovil to live, is still passionate about keeping the side in the league to ensure the young players coming through the ranks can play locally.

"We've had problems getting teams together some weeks which has made captaining a side even more difficult with my circumstance.

"But I will help Duane as much as I can as vice-captain to make sure we nurture and encourage the young players."

Having put Sherborne into bat, Smith was delighted with the bowling and fielding performances which saw Gay pick up 3-38 and Sam Challis 2-7 as Sherborne were dismissed for a fairly paltry 126 all out with newcomer Levi Gale unlucky not to take a wicket in his five overs.

Smith opened the innings in reply and could only watch as Challis and Liam Toohill were dismissed in the first three balls before Bridport 0-2.

Gay (10) helped him recover the situation slightly before Ollie Lee (27) joined him.

However, the partnership didn't flourish ans the skipper was dismissed for 28, and with no one else contributing, Bridport were dismissed for just 86.

"Smith added: "Everything looked fantastic when we were in the field with great bowling and fielding. The problem was when we had a bat in our hands!"

County Division Four

BRADFORD ABBAS 176 ALL OUT LOST TO PORTLAND RT 2ND 177-6 BY 4 WICKETS

County Division Five

MARTINSTOWN 2ND 225-8 BEAT

SHAFTESBURY 86 ALL OUT BY 139 RUNS
WITH a few changes to the side, Martinstown won the toss and decided to bat first.

After early losses that saw them 38-3, a hundred partnership from O'Brien and Crosthwaite set the innings back on course. Despite a few wobbles, useful contributions from Gargrave and Andrews helped push the total up to 225-8 from the 40 overs.

The Shaftesbury reply started steadily, with the openers putting on fifty, against steady bowling from Fello and Gargrave.

Tony Jacobs got the first couple of wickets, and with the pitch perhaps refreshed by a little rain, the rest of the batting collapsed pretty quickly to some accurate bowling and good catches.

Shaftesbury were finally all out for 86, giving Martinstown the full complement of bonus points.

County Division Six

BEAMINSTER 2ND 140 ALL OUT LOST TO

BERE REGIS 2ND 253-3 BY 113 RUNS

A VERY inexperienced Beaminster team including four colts couldn't stop league leaders Bere Regis recording a resounding win, although captain David Hall was very pleased with the attitude and performances of them all.

Batting first J Lambert, who carried his bat for 134 not out, and R Symes (53) put on 164 for the first wicket, before Ryan Sweatman (2-44) bowled Symes and next ball knocked over O Bannerman's stumps.

With Hall (1-35) taking a return catch off his own bowling there was a glimpse of light for Beaminster, and despite a great spell from colt Justin Nottley who bowled eight overs for just 40 runs, M Willey (42no) joined Lambert to set a target of 254 for victory.

Hall (29) kept the Bere Regis attack at bay at the top of the order, before Scott Parker weighed in with a superb unbeaten 67 not out.

Credit must also go to Toby James who held up the visitor's celebrations by batting 40 minutes for eight runs.

Sunday Division Four

SYMENE 190-9 LOST TO

SHILLINGSTONE 194 ALL OUT BY FOUR RUNS

ONLY a brilliant stop inches from the boundary prevented Liam Toohill from clipping the last ball of the innings for the four runs that would have given Symene a draw in what had appeared to be an improbable run chase.

Opener Matt Salisbury (101) who is a prolific run getter for the Saturday 1st team scored a century as Shillingstone looked to be cruising to a big total at 168-3.

However, his dismissal by Ed Halson (1-18) triggered a collapse as six wickets (the visitors only had ten men) tumbled for just 26 runs as Graham Bartlett ripped through with 4-18 and a total of 194 all out.

Symene were always up with the clock as opener Nick Skyrme (32) and Phil Hawkins (40) took the game to them.

A couple of maiden overs saw the run rate rise, but Toohill looked to have put his side in a winnable position.

But he couldn't squeeze the last ball over the ropes, leaving him unbeaten on 60 not out, and Symene so close to a share of the points.

BROADWINDSOR got back to winning ways with a comfortable win in Somerset.

Asked to bat, the champions got off to a good start with Chris Park and Steve Phillips (28) putting on over 70 for the first wicket.

Park went on to complete his century and carry his bat with a single off the last ball of the innings, as Broadwindsor closed on 191-6.

The hosts never really got going in reply with Broadwindsor's younger bowlers coming to the fore. Jack Walklett claimed 3-25, whilst Rob Meech (2-20) and Ryan Sweatman (2-25) both bagged a brace.

An idyllic summer pastime all for a good cause

YOU could not wish for more than a quintessential game of cricket in the idyllic setting of the Symene Cricket Club at Symondsburys, and there is still time for you to take part, and if not participate then sit and take in the atmosphere.

Ten teams of six players have already signed up to take part in the annual Friends of St Mary's Church, Bridport six –a-side on Sunday July 6th where they will engage in keen but friendly battle, for a handsome clutch of trophies.

Play will commence at 11am and the day will include a barbeque lunch and afternoon tea to tempt spectators and supporters to stay and see the last two teams standing.

There is room for a couple more teams however and should you be interested you can still enter by contacting organisers Nigel Vincent (01308 424319) or John Russell (01308 423013)

Nigel said: "It's a great day's entertainment and a good way of raising funds to preserve the mediaeval church for Bridport's heritage."

DESPITE being held 2-2 on disciplines, Bridport Ladies easily won their second round Top Club match at home to DORCHESTER 71-57.

Despite the pairs of Margaret Clapp and Frances Hewett succumbing 15-22 and the four of Pat Cornick, Barbara Iverson, Alison Tibble and Laura Taylor going down 10-20, Pamela Daters strolled up in the singles 21-8, whilst the triples of Gill Hunt, Rosemary Brooks and Melody Watts won convincingly by 25-7 - they will now play Greenhill or Sherborne in the third round.

Bridport played host to seven rinks from touring side THORNEYCOTT and after a very close game lost by four shots overall and 3-4 on rinks, with Barry Shortland, Norman Eccles, A Day and D Smith the top rink.

In Dorset League Division One the men beat SHERBORNE away, winning well on all three rinks. Chris Thorne, Keith Brooks, Paul Tibble and Roy Lidington won 24-13, whilst Brian Rumble, Bob Taylor, Dave Robbins and Craig Bosher triumphed 24-16. Triangle looking for members' support

PORTLAND Red Triangle are asking for club members to support both on and off the field when the youth section take on their parents as they seek revenge for their indoor defeat last year.

The event on Sunday, August 10th is part of the clubs continuing fund-raising campaign and there is something for everyone on the day.

The committee are urging all members to come along and support the event as there will be plenty to do and particularly grateful if senior members could spare a few hours to help run the BBQ and bar.

Felgate and Davies lead fightback

UPLYME UNDER 15 XI 114 FOR 6 BEAT CERNE VALLEY 90 FOR 7 BY 24 RUNS

UPLYME travelled to Cerne without the services of Daley Holmes who was away on county training duty and found themselves in trouble at 0 for 2 having lost both openers Wellman and Murray to the pace bowling of Roper and Frampton.

Wesley Holmes tried to counter attack but was also clean bowled by Roper.

With the score on 15 for 3 Harry Felgate and captain Rhys Davies led the fight back. Both batted sensibly to see off the new ball attack and were then able to open up against the later bowlers.

Felgate hit eight boundaries in his 38 whilst Davies contributed with five 4s and a six in his knock. Both batsmen reached the retirement score of 35 and left it to wicketkeeper Luke Johnson (9) to take the innings to a close at a below par 114.

Cerne opened brightly and were up with the required rate whilst Roper and Frampton were at the crease.

Davies and Holmes were unable to bowl a consistent length and the two openers took advantage scoring 25 and 17 respectively.

However, the introduction of man-of-the-match Felgate curtailed the flow of runs and resulted in the loss of two quick Cerne wickets.

Holmes then returned to bowl Longly and White and to put pressure on the lower order batsmen. Young South African batsman Nick Helstead-Cleak stood firm with 16 not out but he could not accelerate the run-rate and Cerne finished on 90 for the loss of seven ball wickets giving Uplyme their third consecutive league victory.

UPLYME UNDER 13 XI 97 FOR 6 BEAT PUDDLETOWN 86 FOR 6 BY 11 RUNS

ON a glorious evening Uplyme chose to bat first against a useful Puddletown side.

With the rope well back and a rather long outfield boundaries were hard to come by and trying to over hit led to the downfall of Daley Holmes for 16.

Holmes was followed by George Hussey who, having been dropped in the covers, found himself being run out as the fielder threw down the wicket at the bowler's end.

There then followed the match winning partnership between Ben Prosser (24) and Max Helston (24 not out) with the pair managing to lift the score to a respectable 97 in the allotted 18 overs.

Puddletown showed a lot more experience in their batting by hitting the ball over the in-field and then pushing the singles when the fielders were placed deeper.

All the earlier batsmen backed-up well and sprinted their first run.

As a result they were up with the required run rate at 21 for 1 and then 52 for 2.

The turning point came when Helston ran out the Holland for a duck with a direct hit, having only one stump to aim at. Holmes then trapped Ashfield lbw for 18 and had Chatfield caught by Louis Morel for 22.

At 77 for 5 with four overs to go it was either side's game. However, Dom Bernhardt was brought into the attack and bowled an accurate line and length to finish with 1 for 5 from two overs and effectively stifle the Puddletown effort.

Uplyme take on Bere Regis in the next game tomorrow (Thursday) and will be trying to maintain their winning run.
